✿ Weekly Roundup ✿

A huge welcome back to all of our pupils and families!

We hope you all enjoyed a restful half term. This week has flown by, but we've already seen so much fantastic learning and activity taking place across the school. One highlight for me was being invited to Reception's brilliant bonfire celebration — the excitement and joy on the children's faces said it all!

I would also like to give a special mention to the pupils who represented Phoenix at St George's Hall earlier this week. The children performed sign language to a range of songs alongside more than 600 other pupils. This wonderful event focused on raising awareness of children's mental health and the impact negative behaviour can have on wellbeing. It was a privilege to see our pupils taking part with such confidence and pride. A huge thank you to the staff for their hard work and dedication in preparing the children so well.

Our value for this half term is Resilience — a quality we believe is vital in all aspects of life. We know that challenges will arise, but it's important that our children learn to face them positively and keep going, even when things get tough. We encourage you to talk with your child about what resilience means — perhaps even share a time when you've had to be resilient yourself.

At Phoenix, we want our values to be lived and felt every day, not just words on the wall!

Our focus value for this half term is: Resilience

Use of mobile phones on site

We would also like to politely remind parents and carers about the use of mobile phones on the school yard during drop-off and pick-up times. We kindly ask that phones are not used for video calls or filming, as this poses a safeguarding risk. While we completely understand that parents enjoy capturing special moments, it's important that we respect the privacy and safety of all children and families within our school community.
